

St Bartholomew's CE Primary School

Tuesday 10th May, 2016

Dear parents / carers,

Please find attached with this letter a booklet called 'Prevent'. This is a government organisation charged with training professional bodies to identify radicalism and individuals/organisations susceptible to acts of terrorism.

Although the risk in Lincolnshire is low in comparison to many areas within the UK, the school has a duty to keep parents as informed as much as possible in safeguarding children and their community.

Please take a moment to read the booklet. One term not explained is 'misogynistic' which means an irrational hatred of women. Regarding younger children, as explained in the booklet, some topics are not appropriate for young children; we therefore promote British values, such as tolerance of others and mutual respect.

If you have any queries about anything within this letter or the attached booklet please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours faithfully,

James Shawley
